Summary

In total, 327 women have been elected or appointed to Congress, 212 Democrats and 115 Republicans. These figures include six non-voting Delegates, one each from Guam, Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and American Samoa, and two from the U.S. Virgin Islands, as well as one Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico. Of these 327 women there have been:

- 276 (178 Democrats, 98 Republicans) women elected only to the House of Representatives;
- 39 (25 Democrats, 14 Republicans) women elected or appointed only to the Senate;
- 12 (9 Democrats, 3 Republicans) women who have served in both houses.

A record 110 women currently serve in the 115th Congress. Of the 110 women there are:

- 22 in the Senate (17 Democrats and 5 Republicans);
- 88 in the House (64 Democrats and 24 Republicans);
- 5 women in the House (3 Democrats and 2 Republicans) who serve as Delegates or Resident Commissioner, representing the District of Columbia, Guam, American Samoa, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico.

This report includes committee assignments, dates of service, district information, and listings by Congress and state, and (for Representatives) congressional districts of the 327 women who have been elected or appointed to Congress. It will be updated when there are relevant changes in the makeup of Congress.

For additional information, including a discussion of the impact of women in Congress as well as historical information, including the number and percentage of women in Congress over time, data on entry to Congress, comparisons to international and state legislatures, tenure, firsts for women in Congress, women in leadership, and African American, Asian Pacific American, and Hispanic women in Congress, see CRS Report R43244, Women in Congress: Summary Statistics and Brief Overview, by Jennifer E. Introduction

On November 9, 1916, Jeannette Rankin (R-MT) was elected to the House of Representatives as Montana’s Representative-at-Large to the 65th Congress (1917-1919). This election win gave Representative Rankin the distinction of being the first woman elected to serve in Congress.¹ The first woman to serve in the Senate was Rebecca Latimer Felton (D-GA). She was appointed in 1922 and served for one day.

Including new Members sworn into office in January 2018, ² 327 women have been elected or appointed to Congress.³ These figures include six non-voting Delegates, one each from Guam, Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and American Samoa, and two from the U.S. Virgin Islands, as well as one Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico. Of these 327 women there have been:⁴

- 212 Democrats and 115 Republicans;
- 276 (178 Democrats, 98 Republicans) women elected only in the House of Representatives, including 7 (4 Democrats, 3 Republicans) women who have served as Delegates or Resident Commissioners in the House;⁵
- 39 (25 Democrats, 14 Republicans) women elected or appointed only in the Senate; and
- 12 (9 Democrats, 3 Republicans) women elected or appointed in both houses.

A record 110 women currently serve in the 115th Congress. This is higher than the previous record from the 114th Congress (108 women initially sworn in, and one House Member subsequently elected). Of the 110 women in the 115th Congress there are:

- 22 in the Senate (17 Democrats and 5 Republicans);
- 88 in the House (64 Democrats and 24 Republicans);
- 5 of the women in the House who serve as Delegates or Resident Commissioner (3 Democrats and 2 Republicans), representing the District of Columbia, Guam, American Samoa, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico;
- 21 African American women, 11 Asian Pacific American women, and 11 Hispanic women; and
- 2 women that chair House committees, one woman that chairs a Senate standing committee, and one woman that chairs a Senate select committee.

² Information in this report is current as of March 19, 2018.
³ Throughout this report, House and Senate totals each include one woman elected but not sworn in or seated due to the House or Senate being out of session. Both women are included in various official congressional publications, including, for example, the Biographical Directory of the United States Congress (http://bioguide.congress.gov), “Women in Congress” (http://history.house.gov/Exhibition-and-Publications/WIC/Women-in-Congress) and “Senators of the United States 1789-present: a chronological list of senators since the First Congress in 1789,” maintained by the Senate Historical Office (http://www.senate.gov/artandhistory/history/resources/pdf/chronlist.pdf).
⁵ The total number of female Members of the House includes one Delegate to the House of Representatives from Hawaii prior to statehood, one from the District of Columbia, one from Guam, two from the U.S. Virgin Islands, one from American Samoa, and one Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico.
Other notable facts about women in the 115th Congress include the following:

- Not including Delegates and the Resident Commissioner, women currently hold 83 (19.1%) seats in the House of Representatives and 22 (22%) seats in the Senate, totaling 105 (19.6%) of the 535 voting seats in the 115th Congress.
- Including Delegates and the Resident Commissioner, women currently hold 88 seats in the House of Representatives, increasing the total to 110 seats (20.3%) in the entire Congress.

This report includes brief biographical information, committee assignments, dates of service, listings by Congress and state, and (for Representatives) congressional districts of the 327 women who have been elected or appointed to Congress. It will be updated when there are relevant changes in the makeup of Congress.

Notes: Names of Democratic Representatives and Senators in italics; Republicans in Roman.
Prior to the adoption of the Twentieth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, effective Oct. 15, 1933, the terms of Representatives and Senators began on March 4, in conformance with a resolution of the Continental Congress implementing the Constitution (adopted Sept. 13, 1788). The Twentieth Amendment provides inter alia that the terms of Representatives and Senators shall commence at noon on Jan. 3, in the year following their election. The first Congress affected by the Twentieth Amendment was the 74th (1935-1937). Since 1934, the first session of a Congress convenes on Jan. 3 of odd-numbered years and adjourned on Jan. 3 the following odd-numbered year. For ease of use, this table lists the closing date of each Congress as an even-numbered year. For more information, see http://www.senate.gov/reference/Sessions/sessionDates.htm.

a. Member did not serve the entire Congress. See biographical information in the Alphabetical Listing section for additional information.
b. Moved from House to the Senate during this Congress. See biographical information in the Alphabetical Listing section for additional information.
c. Gladys Spellman was elected also to the 97th Congress, but was unable to be sworn in because of a disability and her seat was declared vacant on Feb. 24, 1981.
d. Eva Bowring was appointed to serve until a successor was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dwight Griswold. Hazel Abel was elected to fill that vacancy.
e. Was elected but not sworn in since chamber was out of session. See biographical information in the Alphabetical Listing section for additional information.
f. Appointed to fill a vacancy at the end of the 67th Congress, and served for one day.
Table 2. Women in Congress, 65th-115th Congresses, by State or Territory

Representatives, unless denoted as Senators (S), Delegates (D), Resident Commissioner (RC), or as having served in both chambers (B). Names of Democratic Representatives and Senators in Italics; Republicans in Roman.

Source: CRS summary, based on http://history.house.gov/Exhibition-and-Publications/WIC/Women-in-Congress/.
Notes: The column headings include the following abbreviations: Representatives (Reps), Delegates (Del), and Resident Commissioners (RC).
Three columns include numbers for the House: (1) the number of women Representatives, (2) the number of women non-voting Members (including Delegates and Resident Commissioners), and (3) the total number of women in the House.
Totals are also provided for (1) the number of women in the House and Senate not including non-voting Members and (2) the number of women in the House and Senate including non-voting Members.
For simplification, Congresses are listed in two-year increments. Pursuant to the 20th Amendment to the Constitution, which was ratified Jan. 23, 1933, “the terms of Senators and Representatives [shall end] at noon on the 3rd day of Jan.” For specific dates, see “Dates of Sessions of the Congress, present-1789,” at http://www.senate.gov/reference/Sessions/sessionDates.htm.
