I. Legislative Language

This document responds to language set forth in the Joint Explanatory Statement accompanying the Fiscal Year (FY) 2017 Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Appropriations Act (P.L. 115-31). The Joint Explanatory Statement states:

In addition to the House directive to provide a comprehensive review of the number and locations of all DHS personnel deployed overseas, the Office of Policy shall identify where redundant staff are located and explain why they are required.

Additionally, House Report 114-668 states:

In developing future budget requests for its international activities, the Office of Policy is directed to use the findings of the International Engagement Strategy footprint review, as well as objectives included in its Plan of Action and Milestones. By not later than February 15, 2017, the office shall provide a comprehensive review to the Committee of the number and locations of all DHS personnel deployed overseas; the amount of resources supporting the deployment; identifiable capability gaps including tracking and how these assignments support DHS strategic objectives.

II. Background

Pursuant to the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) 2013 recommendation<sup>1</sup> that DHS establish departmentwide strategic priorities abroad, DHS issued the first DHS International Engagement Strategy (IES). This report includes a copy of the IES as a reference (Appendix B.1). DHS also implemented, at GAO's recommendation, an annual and repeatable process for aligning resources to DHS's international priorities called the International Footprint Review (IFR). The IFR, led by the DHS Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans (PLCY), seeks to capture prior year fiscal expenditures and utilizes the IES as a "beacon" of DHS's intended foreign state of operations purposes when developing future years' resource allocation requests. Specifically, the IFR collects DHS Component and Headquarters overseas fiscal data including prior years' overseas expenditures as well as future years' funded (approved) and unfunded (unapproved) requests. Components can analyze these data by regional priority and line of effort as stated within the IES and articulate the alignment of their resources to the IES. In addition to the fiscal data, Components provide a self-assessment of how their international resources support the strategic objectives found within the IES.

This report provides overseas personnel data from February 2017 and August 2018, as well as the percentage of change between the two datasets. The attached IFR (Appendix B.2) provides an overview of the number and overseas locations in FY 2016 and associated costs.

III. Results, Data Report, and Expenditure Plan

DHS IFR Summary: Tables A and B provide fiscal data and information about the sum of total costs by region and by Component, respectively, for FY 2016. These data originate from the FY 2017 IFR, which captured physical expenditures from FY 2016. Included within the IFR are expenditures broken down by elements such as deployment costs, housing, or administrative items, which are sorted by funding source (e.g., appropriations, reimbursable activity, or fee collection), region, and duty station. In FY 2016, total expenditures across all DHS Components and Headquarters offices amounted to $544,989,589<sup>2</sup>. Components with personnel overseas include U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Agency (CISA),<sup>3</sup> the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), the Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers (FLETC), U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), PLCY, the DHS Science and Technology Directorate (S&T), the Transportation Security Administration (TSA), the U.S. Coast Guard (USCG), U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), and the U.S. Secret Service (USSS). Tables C and D provide snapshots of overseas personnel fluctuations over an 18-month span, from February 2017 to August 2018.

IV. Analysis and Discussion

Achievement of Strategic Objectives: The data submissions for FY 2016 validate that the DHS IES objectives and approaches guided Component investments. For instance, the two-pronged strategy for international engagement focuses on a “Continental Approach,” emphasizing immediate regional partnerships within the Western Hemisphere. In addition, the two-pronged strategy includes a “Point of Origin Approach” with our partners outside of the Americas that seeks to identify transnational threats in their countries of origin or at the earliest possible point. The regions of North America and Central America made up 44 percent of DHS’s total overseas costs in FY 2016<sup>9</sup>, demonstrating adherence to the Continental Approach and alignment to the strategic objectives as described in the IES.

Although not listed in the FY 2016 overseas data in Tables A and B, resources are divided among “lines of effort” discussed in the IES. The lines of effort are derived from the missions and goals identified in the 2014 Quadrennial Homeland Security Review and represent the areas where DHS international activities have the greatest impact on homeland security. The lines of effort include:

- Combat Terrorism and Transnational Organized Crime;
- Secure the Global Supply Chain and the International Travel System;
- Expedite Lawful Flows of U.S.-Bound People and Goods;
- Promote Lawful Immigration; and
- Enhance Cybersecurity.

The Components’ future years’ funded (approved) and unfunded (unapproved) requests, submitted as part of the annual IFR, continuously have reflected appropriate alignment to the IES’s lines of effort.

<sup>9</sup> Appendix B.2: By Region

V. Conclusion and DHS Action Plan

From program and budget perspectives, the annual IFR establishes a repeatable process that affords DHS the ability to pinpoint its international expenditures by mission space (border security, legal immigration, transnational organized crime, etc.), by funding type (appropriations, fee collections, or foreign assistance), and by region. The IES provides the DHS international community with the ability to verify consistent alignment of resources to DHS goals. This enables validation of the priorities outlined in the DHS IES.

The IFR allows DHS to aggregate Components' unfunded priorities, or those priorities that are consistent with established lines of effort. Taken together, this information presents a gap analysis, which will guide future allocation requests and steer Components toward achieving goals and priorities.

Going forward, DHS will complete an update to the IES. The IES was the first clear articulation of DHS's international goals and priorities; however, it lacked the mechanisms and processes necessary to measure the impact of DHS activities with actionable metrics to identify capability gaps in DHS overseas operations. As directed by the National Defense Authorization Act of FY 2017 (P.L. 114-328), DHS is drafting the International Programs Strategy. The International Programs Strategy will supersede the IES and will establish measurable goals and objectives for DHS's overseas activities—a key element that is missing in its current iteration.
