SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Increase Federal Disaster Cost Share Act of 2021”.

SEC. 2. INCREASE OF FEDERAL SHARE.

Notwithstanding sections 403(b), 403(c)(4), 404(a), 406(b), 408(d), 408(g)(2), 428(e)(2)(B), and 503(a) of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act 10 (42 U.S.C. 5121 et seq.), for any major disaster declared by the President under such Act during the period beginning on January 1, 2020, and ending on December 31, 2020, the Federal share of assistance provided under such sections shall be not less than 90 percent of the eligible cost of such assistance.

Amend the title so as to read:

A bill to increase the Federal share provided under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act for a certain time frame during 2020.

PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

The purpose of H.R. 1951, as amended, is to modify the federal cost share of certain assistance provided under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act for major disaster declarations from calendar year 2020.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

The Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (Stafford Act, P.L. 93–288 as amended) authorizes the President to make assistance available via the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to supplement state, tribal, territorial, and local (STTL) efforts to respond to and recover from an incident that exceeds all available resources and overwhelms STTL governments.

FEMA’s Public Assistance (PA) program provides federal help, typically through reimbursement, to STTL governments and certain private non-profit organizations for emergency and/or permanent work. PA eligibility is based on work and damage which occurred as a direct result of the incident that resulted in a Presidential Declaration of Emergency or Major Disaster. FEMA covers no less than 75 percent of the cost of eligible PA projects. The Stafford Act and 44 CFR Sec. 206.47 provides the President the authority and guidance to adjust the cost share requirement for the PA program.

Calendar year 2020 was unprecedented with STTL governments facing a record-setting number of natural disasters while simultaneously fighting the COVID–19 pandemic.¹ Fiscal resources at the STTL levels were depleted by disaster response and public health costs, while also facing declines in revenues that fund services for healthcare, education, public safety, transportation, and other vital programs as a result of necessary measures taken to combat COVID–19 and slow its spread.²

Bill summary: H.R. 1951 would increase the federal share of costs to 90 percent for any disasters that were declared by the President in calendar year 2020. Under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, the federal government typically pays 75 percent of total recovery costs unless the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) agrees to pay a higher share; state governments pay the rest.

Estimated Federal cost: The estimated budgetary effect of H.R. 1951 is shown in Table 1. The costs of the legislation fall within budget function 450 (community and regional development).

Estimated Outlays	310	90	90	85	80	70	55	40	30	20	655	870

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the bill will be enacted by the end of calendar year 2021 and that outlays will follow historical spending patterns for the affected programs.

Direct spending: H.R. 1951 would increase the federal share of costs from 75 percent to 90 percent for any major disaster declared in 2020; state governments pay the remaining portion. As a result, FEMA would pay 15 percent more of the costs of providing assistance to eligible entities within states that were affected by qualifying disasters (those entities include local governments, as well as individuals and households).

During 2020, 104 disaster declarations were made, including 57 declarations on behalf of states and Indian tribes for the coronavirus pandemic (a declaration is made for each state or tribe affected by a particular disaster). Under current law, FEMA administratively increased the federal share for disasters related to the pandemic to 100 percent and increased the federal share to 90 percent for the declaration related to Hurricane Laura's effects in Louisiana. Therefore, CBO expects that enacting H.R. 1951 would result in higher costs with respect to the remaining 46 declarations.

Retroactive Costs. For those disasters that would be affected by the bill, FEMA has already obligated nearly $1.3 billion in assistance, paying 75 percent of project costs that total nearly $1.7 billion. Using information provided by the agency, CBO estimates that under the bill FEMA would retroactively pay an additional 15 percent of those costs—about $250 million—in 2022.

Prospective Costs. In addition, FEMA would pay a higher share on any future assistance allocated for those events. Using information provided by FEMA about the agency's projections of future needs, CBO expects that FEMA and states will obligate funds to offset about $4.5 billion in losses over the 2022–2031 period. Under the bill, FEMA would be responsible for an additional 15 percent of those costs—$675 million. Of that amount, CBO estimates that the agency would spend $620 million over the 2022–2031 period from amounts available for that purpose. The balance, CBO estimates, would be spent after 2031.

In total, CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 1951 would increase spending by $870 million over the 2022–2031 period.

Uncertainty: This estimate is subject to considerable uncertainty. Because H.R. 1951 would increase the share of costs paid by the federal government—rather than state governments—the cost of the legislation would principally depend upon how much FEMA allocates for recovery from those qualifying disasters. While CBO’s estimate of additional spending under the bill is informed by FEMA’s current projection of the amounts that it will allocate for these disasters over the next decade, the ultimate amounts that will be provided—particularly later in the decade—are difficult to predict. Based on the needs of recipient communities in the future, if FEMA decided to increase or decrease the amounts allocated, spending under H.R. 1951 would, in turn, be higher or lower than CBO estimates.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: The Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 establishes budget-reporting and enforcement procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or revenues. The net changes in outlays that are subject to those pay-as-you-go procedures are shown in Table 2. (Most of the outlays would come from appropriations designated in accordance with section 251 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 as emergency requirements or for disaster relief.)

TABLE 2.—CBO’S ESTIMATE OF THE STATUTORY PAY-AS-YOU-GO EFFECTS OF H.R. 1951, THE INCREASE FEDERAL COST SHARE ACT OF 2021, AS ORDERED REPORTED BY THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE ON MARCH 24, 2021

	By fiscal year, millions of dollars														2022– 2026	2022– 2031
	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029	2030	2031
	Net Increase in the On-Budget Deficit
Pay-As-You-Go Effect	310	90	90	85	80	70	55	40	30	20	655	870

Increase in long-term deficits: CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 1951 would not increase on-budget deficits by more than $5 billion in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2032.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

With respect to the requirement of clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the performance goal and objective of this legislation is to reduce the financial burden on state, tribal, local, and territorial governments by increasing the Federal cost share for all disasters declared during calendar year 2020.

DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(5) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee finds that no provision of H.R. 1951, as amended, establishes or reauthorizes a program of the federal government known to be duplicative of another federal program, a program that was included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111–139, or a program related to a program identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

CONGRESSIONAL EARMARKS, LIMITED TAX BENEFITS, AND LIMITED TARIFF BENEFITS

In compliance with clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, this bill, as reported, contains no congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(e), 9(f), or 9(g) of the Rule XXI.

FEDERAL MANDATES STATEMENT

The Committee adopts as its own the estimate of federal mandates prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (Public Law 104–4).

PREEMPTION CLARIFICATION

Section 423 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 requires the report of any Committee on a bill or joint resolution to include a statement on the extent to which the bill or joint resolution is intended to preempt state, local, or tribal law. The Committee finds that H.R. 1951 does not preempt any state, local, or tribal law.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE STATEMENT

No advisory committees within the meaning of section 5(b) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act were created by this legislation.

APPLICABILITY TO LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Committee finds that the legislation does not relate to the terms and conditions of employment or access to public services or accommodations within the meaning of section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act (Public Law 104–1).

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 1. Short title

This section provides that this bill may be cited as the “Increase Federal Disaster Cost Share Act of 2021”.

Sec. 2. Increase of Federal share

This section states that the Federal share of assistance provided pursuant to sections 403(b), 403(c)(4), 404(a), 406(b), 408(d), 408(g)(2), 428(e)(2)(B), and 503(a) of the Stafford Act for any major disaster declared by the President between January 1, 2020, and December 31, 2020, shall be not less than 90 percent of the eligible cost of such assistance.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL, AS REPORTED

As reported by the Committee, H.R. 1951, as amended, makes no changes in existing law.
